Of Developmental Disabilities
Update of the Board:

The Family and Children First Council has a contract with Cindy Bond of the OUS Extension Office to have focus group meetings. The Council is focused on families, community and providers that can offer their services. Mr. Pelcic’s invitation included the request of the Commissioners presence Wednesday, April 18th at 9:00 a.m. following the focus group meeting to have a member of the County Commissioners represent the County. Mr. Pelcic would like to see great participation and feedback and in hopes that people can freely express any thoughts or concerns. The enrollment at Brookes Yate continues to decrease and they were in hopes that it would grow once they moved to the Teays Valley location. Currently there are three aides, they are at Circleville, Westfall and Teays Valley Schools to help with behavior concerns or helping an individual to adapt to the class room who is having a hard time to adjusting. As PCBDD struggle to determine their roll with the schools to provide their services they are trying to come up with a plan. They have not had one preschooler transition to the school program since 2010. School districts are stepping up to the plate to keep the children in their districts. Commissioner Stewart stated that it was nice to see that the Brooks Yates students are involved with their local district schools and fellow students. They have had a growing effort to help get children to school, the community has stepped up and participated any way they can provide help. Commissioner Stewart stated it was nice to see the mixed teams of volunteers and PCBDD students during the recent community basketball game. Commissioners went on to discuss the changes to the old Brooks Yate location for Jobs and Family Services.

In the Matter of Review of March 2018 Revenue & Expenditure Reports with County Auditor:

Melissa Betz, County Auditor, met with the Commissioners to discuss the March 2018 Revenue and Expenditure Reports. Commissioner Wippel asked the Auditor to explain the Notice of Auditor’s Forfeited Land Sales notices listed in the Circleville Herald, April 10, 2018. Melissa Betz, Auditor, went on to explain that this is a new process for the county and the process consists of foreclosed properties that have not sold at previous sheriff sales. A property can be placed up for sheriff sale twice and if it does not sell at the initial sale sheriff sales, it then can be sold for a minimum bid of taxes due to the county Treasurer. If the property was not to sale after an unsuccessful auction twice and the tax auction, it is then forfeited to the State of Ohio and the Auditor can re-auction with a minimum bid of $500. The sale is scheduled for May 1st, and the Auditor’s office will be sending letters to all surrounding property owners. Mrs. Betz did not understand why some of the listed properties had not been sent to sheriff sale sooner.

Mrs. Betz reviewed the county’s revenue and expenditure reports for period ending March 31st. The end of the month balance was $8,613,536.54, and the balance for the day was $8,545,212.01. The big boost was that real estate taxes were collected and settled. The sales tax figures were down just a bit from this time last year. There were a couple large conveyances that came in, one being a large property that sold in the county. No areas of concern were noted.

Commissioner Stewart asked about the Ohio Checkbook data online which is maintained and uploaded by the Auditor’s Office. Mrs. Betz stated that the totals are not matching and Rachel Shaffer from the Auditors office has been in contact with Checkbook to get it resolved and that this is the reason why newer data has not been uploaded to the website yet.

At the conclusion of the meeting, the commissioners thanked Mrs. Betz for the review.
