In the Matter of Public Defender Contract Renewal:

Herman Carson, Office of the Ohio Public Defender Director of Multi-County Program, met with the Commissioner to review the 2019 Fiscal Year Contract. They are utilizing a standardized method to determine caseloads, workloads, and compensation for both employees and contractors throughout the Multi-County region. By going to the caseload limits, Case Caps, they can see the trends and make adjustments and reduce contract costs. This will allow actual cost of experts instead of estimates and give more accurate numbers. Both the county and attorney contracts will contain annual caseloads limitations based on available staffing and calculated using a method of cost per case and this safeguards against timing of workload throughout the year. In efforts to provide quality representation that best reflects the current need of Pickaway County, it was proposed a slight reduction in the number of misdemeanor cases and a slight increase in the number of felony cases. To allow flexibility for coverage, they have included a provision in the contract where counties may request up to a 10% overage in caseload per attorney, and if this occurs, the annual agency shall charge the county for their share of cost for the number of cases exceeding the annual limit. In an attempt to continue to take an active approach in tracking administrative, personnel, expert contract, and investigative cost, a centralized computer system has been put in place to allocate each county’s shared based on the county’s actual usage. The attorneys that will be Court Appointed Council are the same four contract attorneys used previously. John Cornely, Ohio Public Defender Trial Services Director, stated that contract today is based on a 42% reimbursement with last year being 45%. The fund it comes from is based on collections and the number seems to decrease every year. Commissioner Stewart explained that they will forward the information on to the Pickaway County judges to review and to allow them to give their input.

In the Matter of
Brad Lutz, County Administrator:

The following is summary of the report provided by Brad Lutz, County Administrator:

• Mr. Lutz presented the 2017 Franklin County Cooperative Benefits Fund Report.
• Mr. Lutz asked Commissioner Stewart and Commissioner Henson how the speech and display on the Fairgrounds was received at the Chamber of Commerce Dinner and Auction held last Thursday. Commissioner Stewart stated that it went well, and that the reception to the speech and display were well received. There were a lot of questions asked of the Commissioners about the project.
• Mr. Lutz reminded the Commissioners that the bids are due next week, April 24th at 10:30am for the buildings and mobile home located on the Fairgrounds. Mr. Lutz said he will touch base with Kevin Stewart to finalize details with the start of demolition of the Ringgold Dairy and former Barber Shop properties buildings located at the Fairgrounds. After the demolition the Commissioners would like to display a banner “Future Home of the Pickaway County Agricultural Event Center”.
• Tim McGinnis, Planning and Development Director, has been working hard and has been in contact with Jason Gillow, GIS, to be setup to use the Pictometry GIS mapping software.
• Mr. Lutz was asked to give a customer testimonial on behalf of Infolink. Things are going really well with Infolink and we have no issues at this time therefore a testimonial to the work they do is appropriate.
• The Sheriff’s Office updated their phone system and will be giving their old phones to the county to use if needed. The phones can be used to replace non-working phone or as parts.
• Mr. Lutz informed the Commissioners that Eugene Hollins with Frost Brown Todd recently reviewed a draft form of CRA assignment and assumption agreement with respect to property located in the Rickenbacker JEDD area. His recommendation was for the Commissioners to decline approval at this time as the revisions requested by the buyer were inconsistent with the form of assignment that was agreed to by the original parties. The parties that submitted the request were going back to the buyers to revise the agreement for future review.
Mr. Lutz informed the Commissioners that Josh Martin with MS Consultants is reviewing the Request of Qualifications (RFQ) for Construction Managers for the Pickaway Agricultural and Event Center submitted last Friday and reviewed yesterday at the biweekly meeting with MS Consultants. They will have their recommendations to the Commissioners shortly as to whom they recommend to be interviewed as part of the next step in the process. Josh will also provide Mr. Lutz items that we will need from the companies for the Request for Proposal (RFP) they will submit with their interview.

In the Matter of
Justin Green and Recycling in Circleville:

Justin Green would like to implement or mandate recycling in Circleville to better the town and his community for his children and future grandchildren. He asked the Commissioners the most intelligent way to pursue this, as he was told if he became an unofficial community leader people would be more opt to follow him. The judiciary committee asked the City how they could go about lowering their water bills and asked if the Commissioners have any jurisdiction over the City. Commissioner Stewart stated that the local government is organized as villages, townships and the county, and that Mr. Greene would have to go to the City regarding his issues with the City. Recycling is entirely up to the city and the County Commissioners do not have the authority to make it mandatory in the city; rather be the City would need to get involved. Mr. Green plans on attending a city council meeting to discuss. Commissioner Stewart explained the process the Village of Ashville utilizes. Mr. Green feels it is going to come down to him establishing his own recycling business. Mr. Green is doing research into companies that buy back recyclables and dispose of them. Rumpke is the only local recyclable company and the 22 location has six bins to drop off recyclables at. Mr. Green does not want to give it to a large business, he is more for the small business rather than the larger companies. Commissioners suggested that Mr. Green go to the City meeting to address. Commissioner Stewart stated that the County works with four counties with the RPHF Solid Waste to provide recycling programs. Chillicothe utilizes a single hauler and some add a surcharge to the water or sewer bill to collect. Mr. Green asked how to start a petition for the voters to be able to vote. He has started an online group with civil discussions. He will attend the city council meeting tonight. The Commissioner wished Mr. Green luck in pursuing his intent with a recycling program. Mr. Green asked if the Commissioners were involved with the ArtsAround building, and the Commissioners stated that the county has previously pledged funds to the City for the program.
